school. Francis Akana is an efficient leader, and we hope he will put up a sharper struggle for the honors next year even than this.

The Alse School rendered, "No-body's Lookin' But De Owl And De Moon." This is a spirited piece, and the rhythm of the music got a few in the audience to do some "giggling."

The Honaunui School sang, "Hark the Village Maids are Singing." We thank Mr. Toomey for adopting this piece as his prize song. It was a treat for the children's good singing.

The Hookena School sang, "Pale in the Amber West," their best, and when the last note died away, there was rooting and applause from the audience.

The judges, made up of Mrs. Maguire, a lady from Boston, and three others, gave out their decision in favor of Hookena. This is the second time the Hookena School has captured the first prize. Great credit is given to Mr. Thomas N. Haze, a veteran teacher and a past master in the art of singing.

POHAKUPUKA.

Norah Johnson, a former pupil of Oohala school now at Maulau, took a notion to make a round trip between Maulau and Hakalua on March 24.

On March 24, the tunnel had a nice bunch of visitors to see it. Among the crowd were Amos J. Ignacio, D. M. Vieira, Miss M. Pecheo, of Laupahoehoe, together with Mr. Branco's children. The tunnel was finished on March 28.

A bunch of the expert tunnel men will leave for the Coast in a few weeks, among them W. C. Aston, who has been superintending the work.

In the near future, Amos J. Ignacio, principal of the Pohakupuka school, will start a nursery for the use of the community. This work will also afford good manual and agricultural work for the boys.

Rev. Father Charles, of Hualaloa, Rev. Father Idebald of Kukaiaui, Rev. Father Gabriel of Honoumuli, passed this way and made a call on the Ignacio family, on March 22.

Rev. Father Charles had the misfortune of losing his favorite mule, which died in Kona, after having been conveyed back from Hualaloa, a distance of thirty miles, by the mail carrier.

Father Charles started from Hualaloa on March 19 at 7 p. m., on his journey to Kona. On the way, a distance of thirty miles away from Hualaloa, his poor mule would go no further so he unsaddled her, tied her by the bridle to the saddle, left her there and started to Waimea on foot, a distance of fifteen miles. He made fifteen miles on foot, but on arriving at Akona's store, fainted.

Luckily a doctor was secured, and he was attended to immediately. The next morning he was all right again, and started on his journey to Honoumuli. He is visiting his colleagues, Rev. Father Idebald, of Kukaiaui, and Rev. Father Gabriel of Honoumuli.

The new Oohala store at Oohala, has opened its doors to the public.

A new sanitary inspector has been appointed.

The roads between Oohala and Kaa-wali Gulch are in an awful condition.

HAMAKUA.

Jack Rickard of Hilo paid a visit to his aged mother, last Saturday, and returned Sunday by auto. He was accompanied by his cousins Henry and Aileen Rickard.

Wedding bells were ringing in the Ahualoa homestead last Sunday. The happy couple being Mr. Hawaiian Cowboy of Waimea and Miss Angeline of Portugal.

Of all the Chinese in Chinatown of Hamakua—one says—Lum Chew is IT, but the majority pick out Ah Foo as the wideawake chink! You bet he is—he can beat it—with all carpentry tools, the result being another coffee shop in the midst of the Honokaa town. Then Ah Foo says: "All-a-bill fare, Yuan Shih-Kai; all same."

Mr. Ahrens of Kukuiahae celebrated his fifty-sixth birthday last Tuesday.

At Kukuiahae, wedding bells also ting-a-ling-linged and Miss Lucy Kamalu became the wife of Mr. Kamalu.

PAPAALOA.

On March 23, Mr. John V. Marciel of Laupahoehoe, paid Papaaloo a visit and acknowledged that Papaaloo is growing.

A new building is being put up at Kukuiahae by the Japanese, and will no doubt be used as another Japanese restaurant.

It took a Filipino from Papaaloo to run away with Deputy Sheriff Simmons' daughter, during the last week of March. He was bailed off at $10, but it seems a nice thing to bail off a man and not tell him when to appear before the judge to answer his charge. Just think of it!

PAHOA.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stroup entertained friends Friday evening, and a most delightful time was spent. Miss Stroup and Mr. Shainwald were the pianists. Among those present were Miss Herandene, Miss Cassels, Mr. Scott, Mrs. Heidelberger and Mr. Shainwald. Delicious refreshments were served and all had a most enjoyable evening.

Pahoa is a busy place these days. The town is growing in all directions and houses going up everywhere. While we might wish for a more permanent and beautiful type of building, still even this is a sign of prosperity.

Around the mahogany mill there are humming all the time, many large contracts coming in. The company are lucky in having a most efficient staff.

We are anxiously awaiting the erection of the new schoolhouse which will be a great convenience to all, the present arrangement being most reprehensible.

The arrival of Miss Cassels and Miss McGee, two very popular young ladies from South Bend, Washington, as guests of Mrs. Ashman, has been the signal for a number of delightful little entertainments. All are anxious to make time pass pleasantly for these two charming young people. It is to be regretted that their stay is limited to two short weeks more.

On Saturday a party of ladies went for an old-fashioned picnic, to Kala-pana, a most delightful and interesting time was enjoyed by all. John Wright, the principal, very kindly offered to be our guide in exploring the ancient refuge cave of Kumaka, which was an opportunity not afforded to all comers, and to a party of inexperienced climbers seemed quite a thrilling experience.

Miss McGee, Miss Cassels, Miss Herandene, Mrs. and Miss Stroup, Mrs. Heidelberger and Mrs. Ashman were participants in the pleasant affair.

Through the carelessness or ignorance, or both, of a Russian laborer here, a poor little infant came to an untimely death. On Saturday night the child was restless and cried, and to soothe it the father gave it a quarter-grain morphine tablet. The medicine had been given to the mother during her illness and had not all been used.

On Saturday night one of the watchmen at the mahogany mill, while going his rounds, was unfortunate enough to fall and break his leg.

A very delightful afternoon was spent at the home of Mrs. Clarence Short, on Tuesday, March 19. The entertainment took the form of a card party, and the prize, a beautiful little kono tray, was carried off by Miss Nell McGee. Dainty refreshments were served, and a very pleasant time enjoyed by all. Those present were: Miss Cassels and Miss McGee of South Bend, Washington; Mrs. Turner, Kaneohe; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lyman, of Kapoho, and Mrs. Stroup, Miss Herandene and Mrs. Ashman, of Pahoa.

CENTRAL KONA.

According to two or three California newspaper items, the next governor of Hawaii will hail from Kona district. What next?

At the last news from the Londoners, they were in New York, about to sail round the Horn on a six months' trip. Here's a "reflex" wave from "Jack": "Oh, the wonderful glamor that hangs over that Kona experience of ours—like the blue flush that joins horizon and sky, off your fabled Kona coast. Oh, we love it! We love it! Your last message—we wanted to cry over it; it is so fraught with dear memories of you people and your beautiful dreaming coast."

Miss Kopke is visiting Mrs. G. E. Bryant, at Honokahau, for a few days. The coffee bloom this season is wonderfully large, a sight well worth taking in an auto and speeding through the district to see.

OLAA.

Mr. William McBride, late of Kona, spent a week in Hilo and expects to return on Friday.

Miss Emily Huihee, a High school student, who was staying with Mr. and Mrs. Kai at Hilo, has returned to her home in Kau. She will be greatly missed by her teachers and school-mates.

Frank Sakamaki has had his house enlarged, which makes it a comfortable home.

The houses in the Eight Miles line are having their roofs painted red. It makes a pretty touch of color from the train, and will be still prettier when the place is supplied with electric lights.

LATE MAUI ITEMS

(Special Correspondence of the Star.)

WAILUKU, April 6.—The Makawao "Literary," so well known to Maui people and visitors here as always one of the delightful events on this island, was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Murdock last week on Friday. The attempt had been made some two months before for a "Literary," but the severe rains interfered. Last Friday night, however, an unusually large number of people were able to get out, and one of the pleasantest events in months took place. The hospitable home of the Murdocks was thrown wide open for the evening's entertainment. After the literary features were over refreshments were served, and dancing followed.

Miss Annie Couch opened with a piano solo. Mrs. J. P. Foster then sang a solo, and Mrs. Harry A. Baldwin followed with a piano solo. The music was much enjoyed. Six young girls impersonated "Wax Dolls." Beside Lindsay was exhibitor. All took their parts very well. "Legend of Sleepy Hollow" was then given in pantomime, and portions of the story read by Miss Couch.

Library Acquisitions.

The members of the Maui Library Association are enjoying the new books that the library committee recently purchased. The books arrived this week, and are the latest novels that have been most popular at the Coast. The gift of a large number of excellent volumes lately, together with this purchase by the library, has put the reading public on Maui in connection with some of the best literature of the day.

Republican Nominations.

Republican nominations in the seventh Maui precinct are as follows: F. F. Baldwin, E. F. Deinet, Wm. Feneberg, Joe. Freitas, Wm. Hardy, Wm. Keane, J. Vasconcellos and J. J. Walsh.

In the twelfth the nominations are as follows: H. A. Baldwin, Manuel Deponte, Peter Noa Kahokuolona, G. Kelee, Manuel Nunez, Puhiale Kapihi and H. P. Robinson.

Basket Ball.

The Wailuku girls are working hard for basket ball and practicing all the spare time available. Miss Hannah Cummings is captain of the team, and Mrs. W. S. Chillingworth is coach. The time and arrangements for the games were made by Miss Lurena Merriman, the head worker of the Alexander House Settlement.

A FAMILY NECESSITY.

Every family should be provided with Chamberlain's Pain Balm at all times. Sprains may be cured in much less time when promptly treated. Lame back, lame shoulder, pains in the side and chest and rheumatic pains are some of the diseases for which it is especially valuable. Try this liniment and become acquainted with its qualities and you will never wish to be without it. For sale by all dealers, Benson, Smith & Co. Agents for Hawaii.
